

Press Release

25th of August 2009 – for immediate release

LNG16 Online Registration goes Live!

Registration for the 16th International Conference & Exhibition on Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG16) is now live on www.lng16.org allowing all speakers and delegates to register online to attend this important forum dedicated to the LNG industry. Registrations made before the 15th of January will be eligible for the Early Bird discount and save €245.

LNG16 is organized by the IGU (International Gas Union) the GTI (Gas Technology Institute) and the IIR (International Institute of Refrigeration). This triennial event which will be held in Oran, Algeria from the 18-21 April 2010 is the largest global gathering of the LNG industry. LNG16 has already received global support with confirmed sponsors such as AGA (American Gas Association), BakerBotts, BP, Chevron, ExxonMobil, IHI Corporation, Itochu, KBR, RasGas, Repsol, Samsung Engineering, Shell, Sonatrach, Total and Yemen LNG.

Following an overwhelming response to its Call for Papers the Program Committee, made up of more than 30 leading industry representatives, will put together a topical conference program covering the entire LNG chain including:

- LNG Markets and LNG Projects
- Commercial and Technical Developments
- Sustainability, Safety and Environmental Benefits
- Cost Trends and Optimisation
- Managing the Resource Constraints
- LNG Facility Issues including Operations, Maintenance, Aging and Training
- Competitive Energy Markets

The LNG Chain includes liquefaction plants, LNG carriers, receiving terminals & regasification facilities, LNG storage, floating plants, peak shaving facilities, LNG consumers, marketing and trading.

Participants will also have the chance to attend several networking events and lunches. This will include the LNG16 Opening Ceremony and a glamorous Opening Gala Dinner themed to reflect Algeria's rich culture with sumptuous dishes and traditional entertainment, a perfect introduction to LNG 16 and its host city Oran. Following the Closing Ceremony and in anticipation of LNG 17 the host city for 2013, Houston, Texas will host the Farewell Dinner inviting participants to experience the diverse cultures and cuisines which make up the rich tapestry of America.

Ends.
